

Corkie Neuhaus

The predicaments of life are the common human condition and the inspiration for my work. The sculpture evokes an inclusive sensation through describing those moments. I like them tender and funny.

Corkie Neuhaus is a Chicago based sculptor, who founded and has been running Mo Faux; a commercial and residential art for hire company since 1990. She has also taught ceramics at the Peoria Art Guild, and worked for a number of design organizations. She received her BFA from Illinois Wesleyan University.
